

Körber certifies Shanghai Leateck Technology as new Werum PAS-X Endorsed Service Partner in China

Lüneburg, Germany / Shanghai, China, 13 January 2021 – Körber further expands its Werum PAS-X MES service partner network. The world’s leading supplier of manufacturing execution systems (MES) for pharma, biotech and cell & gene therapy signed a strategic partnership agreement with Shanghai Leateck Technology. Leateck is a leading provider of consulting services and manufacturing solutions to help pharmaceutical companies in China meet compliance requirements, improve productivity and competitiveness.

As a strategic partner, Leateck will work with Körber in the People’s Republic of China to provide customers with high quality professional services and support regarding Werum PAS-X MES, from customer partnership exploration, on-site-implementation, operation and software maintenance.

As a certified PAS-X Endorsed Service Partner, Leateck will support Körber in implementing solutions for customers. Leateck will also provide services in project management, MBR design, system configuration, installation, validation and training. Customers in the Chinese life sciences market will benefit from high-quality Werum PAS-X MES implementation services.

“We value Leateck’s extensive local experience in realizing high-end solutions and services. This new strategic partnership of two strong solution providers in the life sciences industry is a further important step for us to expand our delivery capabilities in China,” says Jan-Henrik Dieckert, Executive Vice President Global Sales & Marketing Software, Körber Business Area Pharma.

Mr. Bin Lei, founder and chairman of Leateck, adds: “We are very excited about the partnership between Körber and Leateck. Together we will build a strategic and trustful partnership to empower customers with high-quality software and services to become China’s leading MES solution provider for the local pharmaceutical industry.”

PAS-X Endorsed Service Partners meet all requirements of Körber’s PAS-X Service Partner Program. The main objective is to offer a consistent quality and competence of services to customers globally – through reliable, experienced and certified partners. The service partners need to have comprehensive Werum PAS-X MES knowledge, participate at PAS-X trainings on a regular basis, possess experience in the regulated industry and use a quality management system. The certification has to be renewed on a regular basis.
